

MEDIA RELEASE

Edmonton's favourite Christmas tradition is back at The Citadel Theatre

October 25, 2023

Edmonton, Alberta – A Christmas Carol by David van Belle plays for the fifth season at the Citadel, starting this November.

Based on the Charles Dickens classic novella comes the story of three ghosts who visit the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge to show him the true meaning of Christmas before his fate is sealed. The production is filled with Christmas classic tunes with a 1950s feel that will remind audiences of all the nostalgia of the season and is perfect for families and children.

An Edmonton tradition for the past 23 years, this production is directed by the Citadel's Artistic Director, Daryl Cloran. John Ulliyatt reprises his role as Scrooge, alongside Patricia Zentilli as Emily Cratchit, a widowed mother working to provide her family with the best Christmas she can, and her youngest son Tim (played on alternating performances by Elias Martin and Emmy Robinson). Musical dance numbers, backed by an ensemble chorus and band round out the show, make A Christmas Carol by David van Belle a magical experience this holiday season.

The cast includes fourteen young artists, many of whom have previously participated in classes at the Citadel's Foote Theatre School. Productions like A Christmas Carol and The Sound of Music, give opportunities for young people to gain experience on a professional stage and develop their talents and skills as artists.

The Citadel Theatre is celebrating over 20 years in partnership with Edmonton's Food Bank during the run of A Christmas Carol, collecting donations for Edmonton's most vulnerable populations. To date we have raised over $1.4 million for the Food Bank with the matching help of Capital Power. This year, Capital Power has increased their pledged matching donations to $25,000. Donations will be collected at performances during the run of the show and can also be made online or by texting FEEDYEG to 20222.
